Requirements—Contestants enter at least one event in at least four out of the following six categories:

APPEARANCE

The manner of appearance and dress of G.C.E.A. Global Youth Conference participants reflects an image of Christian modesty, refinement, and self-discipline. Students and Chaperones are expected to support the Global Youth Conference image, program, and requirements in appearance and dress. Appropriateness and modesty are the basic principles governing all appearance and dress for JYC.

G.C.E.A. does not seek to mandate standards and will not conduct appearance inspections, but rather will assume that chaperones are taking this responsibility with their own youth. If necessary, G.C.E.A. reserves the right to address any conflicts directly with the supervising chaperone of any youth involved.

For appearance guidelines check with your local conference coordinator for modifications specific to your location.

The following are general guidelines that the G.C.E.A. suggests for the purposes of promoting its tenants of appropriateness and modesty in order that the focus of the convention may not be on outward appearance, but rather on inner character.

G.C.E.A. both believes and promotes that gender is assigned by God at birth. Attire should reflect the biological gender of the participants and guests of the conference.

1. General Appearance

We suggest the following for casual appearance (during which time participants are not competing or attending a rally).

- We request that clothing not have “cut-outs”, see-through, or similar openings and that the midriffs remain covered.
- We recommend that shorts and skirts be knee-length.
- It is recommended that shirts have a sleeve (whether short or long).
- We request no low-cut clothing.
- In order to promote a spirit of professionalism and maturity, we request that the wearing of pajamas be limited to the housing areas.

2. Competition Appearance

Expectations for appearance are event specific and included in the judging criteria. Please refer to the event guidelines when making choices for appropriateness to ensure the best results for your competition entry piece.

3. Rallies

Rallies are not the same as church services, but are conducted in a similar vein. A certain level of “professionalism” is appropriate for these times and there is an expectation for a more polished appearance during these times. The staff of G.C.E.A. will seek to demonstrate this in their own appearance as an example.

NOTE: Many of the events will have specific dress guidelines based on the event. Example - a contestant entering clown act would dress as a clown, a choir or ensemble will want to dress in a uniform professional manner.

It is the responsibility of the Chaperone to ensure that all students and parents are informed of the appearance guidelines prior to departing for Conference. THE CHAPERONE IS ALSO ACCOUNTABLE FOR ENSURING THAT STUDENTS MAINTAIN APPROPRIATENESS AND MODESTY.

GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR CONDUCT

CONDUCT

“Abstain from all appearance of evil” must be the guiding principle of all interaction between the young men and the young ladies attending the Conference. Maintaining the highest possible standard of behavior is a God-given responsibility.

Couples should not isolate themselves from the group and should be properly chaperoned at all times. At no time are students allowed in cars, buses, vans, or in dimly lit areas without a Chaperone. It is the Chaperone's responsibility to ensure that all students comply with Conference curfews. These guidelines are applicable to all Conference attendees. Remember: Contestants need rest to do their best in competition.

CHAPERONES

Chaperones are the key to good attitudes among the students and a cooperative spirit at the Conference.

Each student must be directly responsible at all times to a specific Chaperone. There must be one male Chaperone for every one to ten boys and one female Chaperone for every one to ten girls. Chaperones must be at least twenty-one years of age at the time of Conference. Parents may serve as the Chaperone for their children (father/daughter, mother/son) if staying off campus. When necessary, a school, home school, or home school group may assume responsibility for students from another school, home school, or home school group provided this does not exceed the one-to-ten ratio. . Chaperones must reside with their students. Chaperones must meet the appearance code. Only those willing to conform to these requirements will be allowed to register and to remain on the premises. Chaperones are responsible for enforcing the dress and conduct guidelines with all students in their care.

Chaperones will be accountable for damaged or missing items belonging to the host campus or other contestants.

Each church, school, or organization must complete a Student Conference Screening Form (GF16) prior to Conference. All Chaperones must also complete a Chaperone Registration Form (GF5)

Chaperones and students are encouraged to attend all evening rallies. These rallies are designed specifically to encourage, empower and challenge students in spiritual areas.
